

Josh Carson, Front End Developer

PROFILE

I am a front end web developer who approaches learning with a hands-on first approach. My experience in the trades has forced me to become a detail-oriented, creative problem-solver. When I'm not programming, you'll find me training (or hugging) my dog, cooking new dishes or playing old gameboy games on an emulator.

PROJECTS

 QuickFlickPix : < React, SCSS, RESTful API, Firebase />

Users can search for and add movies to curated lists, and receive recommendations based on desired genres and time available for viewing.

 Rain or Shine? : < React, CSS, RESTful API />

Weather app with a simple UI that can return current and forecasted weather based on city name, postal code or zip code.
